

101 Puppy Mills

A Selection of Problem Puppy Mills in the United States

This is a partial list of problem puppy mills, not a list of all puppy mills. Numbers are for reference purposes and are not a ranking by severity. See the full report.

The facilities listed in the report were selected based on a number of factors, including, but not limited to, the number and severity of state and/or federal animal welfare violations (available via public records), HSUS research and investigations, consumer complaints and whether the facility was believed to be in business at the time of publication.

For more information about any of the dealers listed, see the full report. For information on the methodology used in preparing this report, see the full report.
